Stressopathy, a made up word to describe a silent epidemic that...

- sucks the joy out of life
- can cause depression
- lurks within to-do lists and the daily grind
- enslaves you in a cyclone of busyness
- robs you of the best parts of your day, week, month, year...

50% of workers leave their jobs because of physical and emotional stress.

Stress is one of the leading causes of health care issues.

We cause stress with...

- ...what we put in our bodies
- ...what we put on our bodies
- ...what we do or don't do with our bodies
- ...our negative, ruminating thoughts
- ...the choices we make

What is Self-Care?

- Self-care is not about eliminating negative feelings; it is about handling them.
- Self-care is not that one gift you give yourself occasionally.
- It is not one vacation a year. You can have an occasional self-care experience or indulgence, but does it really restore you?

How do you really feel the day you come back to work after a vacation?

Self-care involves ups and downs, and finding what helps in different moments, whether it's rest, action, social support, giving back, or solitude.

When your job involves looking after others, it's hard to focus on yourself. You have to recharge yourself, or your battery will run dry.

It doesn't matter...

- how smart you are
- how talented you are
- how much money you have
- how popular or famous you are
- how many likes you have
- how any followers you have
- or how successful you are in your career

Benefits of Self-Care

1. Improves Mental Health
  - Reduces stress and anxiety
  - Promotes mindfulness and relaxation
2. Enhances Physical Health
  - Encourages a healthier lifestyle (better sleep, exercise, balanced diet, water consumption, vitamins)
3. Boosts Productivity
  - Increases focus and concentration
  - Enhances creativity and problem-solving skills
4. Builds Stronger Relationships
  - Promotes better communication
  - Encourages patience, empathy, and understanding
5. Promotes Personal Growth
  - Fosters a positive self-image and self-worth
  - Enhances resilience and adaptability
6. Encourages a more balanced emotional state

What we tell ourselves matters!

Personal Affirmations

Affirmations are short, encouraging statements you can use to achieve a more positive frame of mind.

Positive Self-Talk

Self-talk is the internal dialog that goes on in your mind. Sometimes your inner critic tears you apart when something goes wrong or you have a challenge ahead. You become fluent in negativity.

*"I can't do this."
"I'm not good enough."*

Would you say that to a loved one? Catch negative self-talk patterns early and consciously choose healthier, more supportive thoughts!

Ask your friends and coworkers to do the same.

Become a constructive mentor for yourself. You know enough. You are capable of learning. You ARE enough!

Take personal ownership of your physical health.

Build positive connections with others. Research shows that making meaningful connections can have a positive impact on your overall health.

*"Our strength lies in differences, not in our similarities."
- Stephen Covey*

Use music to regulate your feelings.

- Separate your songs by feelings on your playlist.
- Soothing songs that help you relax have a calming effect on the nervous system.
- Songs that energize can stimulate the release of dopamine. (chemical messenger in the brain related to pleasure & reward)

Compartmentalize:

Compartmentalization is the act of dividing your life into distinct, separate compartments. Each compartment represents a different aspect of your life, such as work, family, friends, hobbies, and personal development.

By compartmentalizing activities with intention, you can...

- schedule your priorities
- reduce stress
- increase focus & attention
- ensure that you're caring for yourself

...all while maintaining productivity and making progress, without feeling overwhelmed.

How does one compartmentalize?

- Prioritize tasks
- Allocate time for each task
- Create appealing physical spaces for each activity
- Set clear boundaries
- Schedule your care
- Use to-do lists or task mgmt. apps
- Reflect and adjust your approach
- Stay flexible

Take a magnifying glass to your finances

- Why don't you have any money?
- Are you living simply?
Or, trying to keep up with the Joneses?
- How are you spending money?
- How much are you saving?
- What spending habits can you change?
  - ◊ car too expensive
  - ◊ housing cost too much
  - ◊ friends or family syphoning
  - ◊ stores out of your range
  - ◊ budget better
  - ◊ start a side hustle
  - ◊ go after that job or promotion

Restorative Activities & Healthy Coping Strategies

- Make plans and follow through.
- Go to bed & get up at a reasonable hour (7-9 hours of sleep).
- Breathe deeply and meditate for 5 mins.

Restorative Activities & Healthy Coping Strategies

- Take regularly scheduled breaks (at least 10 mins.).
- Get physically active. (even if for 5-10 min. walks).
- Wear colors that enhance your mood
- Wear comfortable clothing made of natural fibers.
- Positive self-talk. Avoid ruminating.
- Post and read affirmations.
- Seek to solve your problems and overcome your challenges.
- Go outside & connect to nature for 20 mins.
- Play with your children.
- Compartmentalize tasks.
- Get organized - declutter
- Designate play, relaxation, and workspaces.
- Write in a positivity or gratitude journal.
- Prepare your favorite healthy meal.
- Look to your spirituality.
- Forgive.
- Minimize interruptions.
- Understand what is expected of you. Ask and reconfirm.
- Minimize exposure to media outlets, news, and social media that might promote fear or panic.
- View photos of beautiful images (guided visualization) and positive memories.
- Take a break from technology.
- Use aromatherapy with essential oils or scented candles.
- Listen to music that calms, motivates, and inspires you.
- Watch movies, shows, comedians that bring you joy.
- Learn a new skill or language.
- See failures and mistakes as learning opportunities. Celebrate them and take a bow!
- Give back – Volunteer (mentor, tutor, shelter, orphanage, hospitals)
- Consider an emotional support animal
- Ask for help when you need it

- What habits would you like to change?
- What would you like to try?
- What is working for your friends and peers?
- What is stopping you?

1. Make a list of coping strategies based on these questions.
2. Cross off the strategies that you are already doing, or that aren't possible at the moment.
3. From what remains, choose one strategy that is most appealing to start for a few weeks.
4. Then decide if the strategy has helped or not. If it has, add it to your daily routine on a permanent basis, and try another.

Create a Vision Board: a collection of images and words that reflect your ideas of self-care from magazines, books, drawings, online, and photos.

Brainstorm activities, interests, goals.

Collect images, words, and phrases that benefit your mental, emotional, and physical health.

- Affirmations
- Bucket list activities
- Promises to yourself
- Goals
- Dreams

Positive affirmations and self-talk

I finish what I START	My failures don't DEFINE ME	I warm the souls of others	I am building a healthy body
My life has MEANING	I will OVERCOME this	I choose to be HAPPY	I think POSITIVE thoughts
I can learn ANYTHING	I will make myself PROUD	I have EARNED this	I am where I'm Supposed to be
Nothing else matters	My life Has MEANING	I am willing to take a RISK	I am PREPARED

Positive affirmations and self-talk

I live like Someone left the gate open	I don't COMPARE myself to others	I can do this	I live in the land of ABUNDANCE
I am led by my DREAMS	My hard work will PAY OFF	Eating healthy food fuels me	I will seek HELP
I have the skills I need	My life Has MEANING	I am INTELLIGENT & CAPABLE	NOTHING will stand in my way
I am ENOUGH	When I make mistakes, I GROW	I am GRATEFUL for everything	I can reach my GOALS

Positive affirmations and self-talk

I have EVERYTHING I need	I can do this by MYSELF	My dreams will come TRUE	I am not defined by my past
I LOOK GOOD	I am RICH in friends	I am LOVABLE	I can OVERCOME my challenges
I can FORGIVE and MOVE ON	No one will push my buttons	I am a KIND & CARING PERSON	I will IGNORE the negatives
I am CAPABLE of change	I am in control of my finances	My cup is always FULL	I am filled with OPTIMISM
